

University of Iowa International Programs presents The McCue Summer Institute for Teachers

Focus on the Middle East

June 16-20, 2003

The workshop is an excellent opportunity to gather information and perspectives that will be invaluable in helping your students understand this complex region of the world. The workshop will meet daily with sessions from 9 a.m.-noon and 1:00-4:30 p.m. University of Iowa professor of geography, Rex Honey, will be the facilitator. Guest lecturers will also share their insights. Topics to be covered include the Israeli-Palestinian conflict, culture and Islam, Afghanistan and the war on terrorism, and the current situation in Iraq. Throughout the week there will also be related activities, special events, and entertainment.

The Institute is offered for academic credit only, and you may register for 1, 2, or 3 semester hours of undergraduate or graduate credit. Tuition is $181 per semester hour (undergraduate) and $280 per semester hour (graduate). Workshop requirements are specific to the number of hours for which you enroll. Small grants to assist with tuition costs are available.
