

AFRICAN STUDIES PROGRAM BARAZA

WRITING ABOUT AFRICA:

Anglophone and Francophone Perspectives

WED, OCTOBER 21 | 11:00 AM - 12:00 PM | 315 PHILLIPS HALL

Writers Anas Atakora and Samuel Kolawole will discuss their international perspectives on African writing movements. Anas Atakora is a poet, fiction and nonfiction writer from Togo. Samuel Kolawole was born and raised in Ibadan, Nigeria. He has contributed fiction and non-fiction to several journals and anthologies within and outside the continent.

This event is sponsored by the African Studies Program and International Programs.
For more information, please visit: international.uiowa.edu/academic/african-studies

Individuals with disabilities are encouraged to attend all University of Iowa-sponsored events. If you are a person with a disability who requires an accommodation in order to participate in this program, please contact Jim Giblin in advance at james-giblin@uiowa.edu.

