

AFRICAN STUDIES PROGRAM

and the Office of Outreach and Engagement

My Daughters are My Writings: The Republican Brotherhood in Sudan and Iowa City

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY

15

This program will begin with a reading of a new play entitled “My Daughters are My Writings” by Margot Connolly, followed by a talk from Ohio University Professor Steve Howard called “We Are Mahmoud: on the Path of the Prophet in Unsettled Times.”

Steve Howard’s talk covers the work of Mahmoud Mohamed Taha, a Muslim social reformer in Sudan, and the recruitment and organization of his followers, the “Republican Brotherhood,” before and after Sudan’s independence from Britain.

Steve Howard will be introduced by Iowa City Council member Mazahir Salih.

This event is co-sponsored by International Programs and the Office for Outreach and Engagement.

International Programs

4:30 - 6 PM

Senate Chamber,
Old Capitol Museum

Individuals with disabilities are encouraged to attend all University of Iowa-sponsored events. If you are a person with a disability who requires an accommodation in order to participate in this program, please contact James Giblin in advance at james-giblin@uiowa.edu or (319) 335-2302.