EVENT DESCRIPTION:
This is a chance for Iowans to try some authentic Asian dishes. Cooks will share some background information about their dishes and then audience participants will be allowed to sample the various dishes and talk with the cooks. The event will begin at 6 p.m. on Friday, November 3, 2017, and conclude around 7:30 p.m.

COOK REQUIREMENTS:
• prepare an authentic Asian dish that can be divided into 40 small, sample-sized portions for the audience to taste
• prepare a 5 minute speech about your dish which could include information about the region it’s from, the importance of certain ingredients or other interesting facts
• arrive at 1117 University Capitol Centre between 5-5:30 PM with your dish mostly prepared; put finishing touches on dish and portion out 40 samples
• provide a list of ingredients used in the dish

REGISTRATION:
Name: __________________________________________________________
Address: _________________________________________________________
Phone: ___________________________ Email: _________________________

Information about the dish you would like to prepare:
What is your dish called in its native language and what is the closest English translation?

Please return this registration to:
Erin Mullins, 1120-2 University Capitol Centre or by email to:
confucius@uiowa.edu

Notification:
We will follow up with you soon after receiving this registration.