One of Korea’s most exciting and innovative poets, Jeongrye Choi, writes poetry that uncovers the strangeness of everyday experience. Her collection Instances was published in 2010 and co-translated by Brenda Hillman and Wayne de Fremery. Choi, a Korean poet and translator, will be reading from her work and informally discussing aspects of contemporary Korean poetry. Refreshments will be provided.

This event is sponsored by the UI International Writing Program and the UI Center for Asian and Pacific Studies in International Programs.

Individuals with disabilities are encouraged to attend all University of Iowa sponsored events. If you are a person with a disability who requires a reasonable accommodation in order to participate in this program, please contact Natasa Durovicova in advance at 319-335-3089.