ART
IN TIMES OF QUAKE AND CHOLERA
Thurs, March 1
5–6:30 p.m.
UCC 2520D

Caribbean, Diaspora and Atlantic Studies program
lecture presented by Edouard Duval Carrié

Edouard Duval Carrié is a Haitian-born painter and sculptor based in Miami. His “provocative work combines African fables, classical mythology, Haitian and world history with contemporary events.” It is widely exhibited, catalogued in several books and featured in numerous permanent collections including the Musée du Panthéon National Haïtien in Port-au-Prince, the Figge Museum, the Miami Museum of Art, and the Musée des Arts Africains et Océaniens in Paris. He will talk about his activities in the general relief efforts made after Haiti’s devastating earthquake in 2010, and present a selection of his recent productions.

This event is free and open to the public.
The lecture will be followed by a reception.

‘Haiti earthquake’ photo by United Nations Development Programme, available under a Creative Commons Attribution-Noncommercial license.