This year marks the tenth anniversary of the exchange between the University of Iowa and China Daily, China's largest English-language newspaper. Since its inauguration, fruitful exchanges have taken place each year with a senior journalist or editor from China Daily teaching a short course at the UI called “News and Knowledge: Chinese Culture in the Era of Globalization” in late spring semester. In exchange, a journalism student from the University of Iowa is provided an internship opportunity to work at China Daily in Beijing for a summer or a year.

Sponsors of the Event: UI Center for Asia and Pacific Studies, International Programs, School of Journalism and Mass Communication
