

Symposium on Youth and Urban Culture in East Africa

featuring screenings of two films by Ron Mulvihill, Maangamizi and Poetry in Motion: 100 Years of Zanzibar's Nadi Ikhwan Safaa

Free & Open to the Public

Friday, April 2

Morning (109 EPB)

9:00-9:30: Opening Remarks (James and Blandina Giblin, University of Iowa)

9:30-11:00 Screening: Hip Hop Colony (93 minutes).

Hip Hop Colony examines genge, Kenya's unique brand of hip-hop. Genge was initially dismissed as a passing fad, but this new musical style, a fusion of traditional African music with American hip-hop, is growing in popularity around the world.

11:00-12:00: Discussion of Hip Hop Colony led by Mwenda Ntarangwi (Calvin College, Grand Rapids, Michigan) and José Arturo Saavedra Casco (El Colegio de México, Mexico City).

Afternoon (UCC 2520D)

1:00-2:30pm: Current Research on East African Culture: Panel I: Hip-Hop In Kenya and Tanzania:

Mwenda Ntarangwi (Calvin College, Grand Rapids, Michigan)
José Arturo Saavedra Casco (El Colegio de México, Mexico City).

3:00-4:30pm: Current Research on East African Culture: Panel II: Studies in Electronic Media:

James Brennan (University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana)
George Gathigi (Hampshire College, Massachusetts)

Evening (BCSB 101)

7:00-9:00: Screening of Maangamizi (112 minutes)

Maangamizi – the Ancient One (Gris-Cris Films, U.S.-Tanzania) is a unique story that steps out to reclaim the spiritual connection that threads us together as a global community. Set in a women's psychiatric hospital in Kilimanjaro, Tanzania, it portrays the fated union of two women from two different backgrounds and cultures --and yet united by terrifying memories --and the re-emergence of their independent and collective selves through the intervention of the ancestor. It is a powerful meditation on the human psyche in its confrontation with a hostile world.

Saturday, April 3

Morning (UCC 1117)

9:00-10:30: Screening of Naliaka is Going (85 minutes)

From Kenya, Naliaka is Going is the story of a young woman who leaves her village to become a housemaid, attains language and typing on her own and travels to the city where she manages to escape various dangers and finds success in a career as well as romance.

10:30-11:30: Discussion of Naliaka is Going, led by Allison McGuffie (University of Iowa).

Afternoon (BCSB 101)

1:00-2:30: Screening of Poetry in Motion: 100 Years of Zanzibar's Nadi Ikhwan Safaa (75 minutes)

Poetry in Motion: 100 Years of Zanzibar's Nadi Ikhwan Safaa is a feature-length documentary film exploring the music, poetry, history and personalities of an esteemed East African orchestra. Performers of sung Swahili poetry called taarab, Nadi Ikhwan Safaa ('The True Brotherhood Club') of Zanzibar, Tanzania celebrated its 100th anniversary in July 2005, making it one of the oldest orchestras in the world today.

2:45-4:00: Discussion of Maangamizi and Poetry in Motion: 100 Years of Zanzibar's Nadi Ikhwan Safaa. The discussion will be led by Ron Mulvihill, the director of both films, and by Mona Mwakalinga (University of Kansas), who appeared in Maangamizi.

Evening (UCC 1117)

5:00- 6:30: Reception/Bufferet (Open to the public)

Sponsored by an Undergraduate International Studies and Foreign Language Program grant, the African Studies Program, Department of English, and International Programs

Individuals with disabilities are encouraged to attend all University of Iowa sponsored events. If you are a person with a disability who requires a reasonable accommodation in order to participate in this program, please contact Heidi Vekemans in advance at 319-335-3862.