November 4, 2011

Cristina Rivera Garza will offer two events, one in Spanish and one in English. The first will be a reading of her work in Spanish. The second will be a conversation with her in English on her experiences as a writer.

Reading in Spanish
1:30-3 PM • UCC 1117

Conversation in English
4-5:30 PM • 315 Phillips Hall

CONVERSATIONS WITH CRISTINA RIVERA GARZA

Cristina Rivera Garza is one of the most prominent of the latest generation of Mexican narrators. Currently a professor of creative writing at the University of California, San Diego, she is the author of numerous books, including Verde Shanghai (2017), La CASTAÑEDA, Narrativas dolientes desde el Manicomio General (2010), La Frontera Más Distañe (2008), La Muerte Me Da (2007), and Nadie Me Vera Llorar (2001). Along with her literary work, Rivera Garza also publishes a weekly column in the Mexican newspaper Milenio and actively maintains her blog No Hay Tal Lugar.

Free and open to the public

Photo taken by Yvonne Venegas

This event is sponsored by the Latin American Studies Program, the Department of Spanish and Portuguese, the Writer's Workshop, the Department of English, and International Programs.

Individuals with disabilities are encouraged to attend all University of Iowa-sponsored events. If you are a person with a disability who requires an accommodation in order to participate in this program, please contact Santiago Vaquero-Vaqueriz at santiago-vaquero-vaqueriz@uiowa.edu or (319) 335-3457.